Heart to Heart Foundation continues to contribute its work to building a society where everyone happily lives together

Oh Jee-chul, 오지철
Chairman of Heart to Heart Foundation

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the supporters and partners who have always rendered great encouragement and love to our Foundation.

In 2020, each and every country in the world has suffered from the COVID-19, and the pain continues up to now. In particular, the suffering has been severer for the low-income families. The job loss made them it difficult to make ends meet, while the educational gap among children is widening. People in developing countries who do not even have drinking water are seriously unprotected and exposed to infectious diseases.

Heart to Heart Foundation delivered facial masks, hand sanitizers and daily necessities to the vulnerable families in Korea. The campaign drew the interest and support of many people, and its beneficiaries have expanded up to rural areas beyond the boundaries of the metropolitan area. In addition, an online public cheering campaign was held with developmental disability performers and famous Korean artists, and the online conversion of festivals and concerts for developmental disabilities allowed more people to sympathize and communicate together. Meanwhile, we have implemented an ICT-based educational program indispensable in the era of the Fourth Industrial Revolution, which is becoming more critical due to changes in the social environment.

The Foundation extensively implemented its COVID-19 response programs not only in Korea, but also in developing countries. We provided emergency relief supplies such as hygiene kits, quarantine goods and meal boxes to local residents and the medical facilities who are helplessly exposed to the pandemic, and continued to organize the educational program for the prevention of the epidemic. Currently, about 2.2 billion people worldwide do not have access to clean drinking water and about 300,000 children under the age of five are dying from waterborne diseases. Under such harsh circumstances, Heart to Heart Foundation will make its best efforts to provide clean water and sanitary toilets by water and sanitation facilities to developing countries.

Heart to Heart Foundation and its entire staff will continue to develop their capabilities innovatively with one accord and contribute to creating a beautiful world where no one is left by correspondingly responding to new social issues.

Also, we will continue to be thorough about internal and external audits to ensure that valuable contributions to the Heart to Heart Foundation can be used transparently and appropriately. We will regularly disclose the information on the operation of the Foundation to our sponsors and the people concerned.

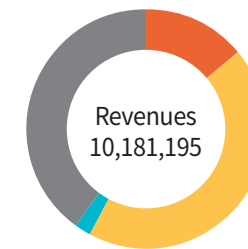

We look forward to your continued support and advice.

Thank you very much.

Emergency Support for Mrs. Unei in the Philippines

Mrs. Unei is 75-years-old and lives alone in her house made of wood near the sea. Before COVID-19 lockdown, her children living nearby supported her with living by selling the fish they caught in the sea in the market. However, ever since COVID-19 broke out, the government prohibited people from going out, making it difficult for her children to make living and even go to Mrs. Unei. Mrs. Unei had to live hand to mouth, solely depending on the food provided by her government. She even had difficulty moving. It was difficult to receive the ration and it was not enough for her. In the meantime, she received a package comprising food and hygiene products through the Philippine branch of Heart to Heart Foundation. She shared it with her children in need, spending her precious days with hope.

Please Give the Light of Hope

Srei Mom, who lives in Cambodia, is a mother of two children with visual impairment. It was difficult enough to see Sieng Li, her first daughter, seven-years-old, losing her vision completely after she was diagnosed with pediatric cancer for retinoblastoma. But now even Srei Bong, her second child was also diagnosed with the same disease at the age of five months and gradually losing her vision.

To nurse and care for her two children, her mother, and father who is a driver had to reduce working hours, and the living became even more difficult. They had to depend on help from her relatives for both living expenses and hospital expenses.

While struggling in sorrow for not being able to provide proper treatment to their sick children and the hardships of life, they received support for Srei Bong's hospital expenses, baby supplies, and daily necessities ties through Heart-Heart Foundation.

After being treated consistently for a year, Srei Bong's tumor reduced greatly and she recovered her sight greatly than before. While the child was getting better, Srei Bong's family gradually regained stability.

Srei Bong's parents could endure a difficult year with the help of many supporters, and most of all, they thanked that Srei Bong can see again instead of losing sight.

WASH (Water, Sanitation and Hygiene) Project

Approximately 2.2 billion people worldwide do not have access to clean drinking water, and about 300,000 children under the age of five are dying from waterborne diseases. WASH stands for Water, Sanitation and Hygiene, which means to provide drinking water and sanitary facilities. Heart to Heart Foundation is contributing to helping more residents access safe and clean water and use hygienic toilets, which are basic human rights, through the installation of drinking water and sanitation facilities in developing countries. Furthermore, we guarantee the right to health of local residents by supporting the prevention and treatment of waterborne diseases.

Malawi

A Well that Returned Safe and Healthy Life

Heart to Heart Foundation has designated two areas, Ngoque and Chiqueo in Machinga, Malawi as waterborne diseases prevention areas and has promoted drinking water and sanitation improvement program since February 2019. In Malawi, 4,500 children under the age of five are dying each year from diarrhea, and particularly, the mortality rate of children under the age of five in Machinga is the 6th highest among 28 counties (81 in 1,000 children).

According to the survey of the areas, only 37.75% of 141,706 people in the two villages, Ngoque and Chiqueo, had access to clean water. The Malawi branch of Heart to Heart Foundation added a total of 28 new drinking water facilities in Ngoque and Chiqueo from 2019 to 2020, which allowed 54.7% of villagers to access clean water.

Education to Prevent Diarrhea in Children Caused by Waterborne Diseases

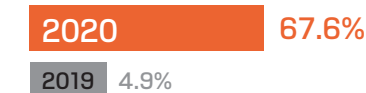

Each public health center in Tanzania trained the primary caregivers of children under the age of five about how to prevent waterborne disease through the Mother and Child Health Clinic.

To give consistent and clear education on preventing waterborne disease, we distributed educational materials for waterborne disease prevention to public health center staff, who provided waterborne disease prevention training to the primary caregivers.

We went further to visit public health centers to monitor how the training is given and share improvements to improve the quality of education and made efforts to ensure that children in Tanzania no longer suffer from diarrhea.

Support for School Sanitation and Vulnerable Families

Heart to Heart Foundation supports children, adolescents, and young adults of the vulnerable family to guarantee their educational opportunities so that they can continue learning without being marginalized economically and socially. Schools were closed in 2020 due to COVID-19 pandemic, which made it difficult to actively carry out school-based activities. In 2021, we will make sure more students receive educational opportunities and stay healthy.

I want to go to middle school! Make Pirom's dream come true!

Pirom, a 13-year-old boy who lives alone with her mother in Clanghai, Siem Reap, Cambodia. His father died seven years ago, and his two older brothers live at a distance. His mother earns bread with difficulty by helping others with farming or selling fish she caught nearby in the market. No one in Pirom's family went further than elementary school. Pirom is in the fifth grade this year, and he has to give up learning when he graduates from elementary school due to his poor sight and a difficult domestic circumstances. But Pirom wants to go to the middle school. His mother also desperate wishes that his son becomes much healthier and attend middle school.

Uzbekistan

We supported the students of Uzbekistan Institute of Technology to continue their learning.

Uzbekistan emphasizes the importance of education, in so much that they say it was education that made Korea achieve today's growth. The whole nation is quite enthusiastic about education, and the competition rate for college entrance is also quite high, above 10 to 1 on average.

However, the tuition is no longer free from the second semester of 2001, and the burden of tuition increased considerably. There is no system that funds students in the low-income family like in Korea. The economic burden has grown enormously for most students and their families except the students receiving scholarships for academic achievement.

Also, the government took measures to restrict traveling within the country due to COVID-19 after the first confirmed case was found in March 2020, many people lost their jobs and their income, which increased the burden of education expenses on households further.

Heart to Heart Foundation is promoting a tuition support project to discover excellent science and engineering talents and help them to pursue their learning.
